President's Letter

President's Letter

"The Italian is coming! The Italian is coming!" (To paraphrase a favorite movie about a Russian sub crew landing on the coast of Maine.) I can't believe after waiting two years that the time is almost here. A week from today is the first day of the teapot class, the first of the two workshops Tony Minieri will be teaching. The classes are very full, thirty or more per class. Let us all remember our workshop manners; no cell phones on ring, no chatting during teaching time, beverages and food in other areas, and don't spread out too far into your neighbor's space. (That one is a reminder especially for me. I have a hard time being organized and neat.)

Even if you are not able to take a class with Tony, Barb Lewis has invited all of us to a pot-luck Saturday at 6 p.m. at her house. Be sure to let Barb know if you are attending, and what you are bringing.

We have interesting programs coming up which Angela will tell you about. Our Wednesday night meeting will be after the last gasp of the last day of Tony Minieri's patch workshop. I expect to be brain-dead. So if you want a good laugh, come to the night group and watch me struggle to conduct the meeting. I don't expect I'll be in much better shape the next morning for the Thursday day meeting!

See you soon.

Judy Burgess

Carole Lake

Mark your calendars for September 27-28, 2008. We have Carole Lake coming to teach ANASAZI DREAM. The background canvas color choices are sage green (original), French blue, eggshell, sandstone, or Tudor rose (the color used for Anasazi Song). The kit cost is $70 and the thread kits will be the same for all. But students may make changes at their own expense. There will be some pre-stitching. Carole is a neat person and very knowledgeable. We are lucky to have her.

Mark your calendars!

Thanks,
Barb Lewis
